Hawker Beechcraft Corp. announced Wednesday the appointment of Justin Firestone to the position of president in its Asian-Pacific sales division.

Firestone will be based out of the company's new regional headquarters in Hong Kong.

"Justin's leadership and experience will resonate as we expand our sales and product support footprint in this important area of the world," Hawker Executive Vice President Shawn Vick said in a written release.

Firestone, who holds a bachelor's degrees in communication and business from Arizona State University, was previously the founder and CEO of Asia Jet, a regional fractional business jet operator.

Prior to that, Firestone was a senior executive with another fractional operator, Marquis Jet. He was also formerly a director with the charter broker company eBizJets, which is now called Sentient Jet.
